WE NOMINATE

The 450-plus members of the Princeton League of Women Voters — the largest of all of the 92 Leagues in New Jersey — whose combined volunteer efforts over the years have made it possible for the Princeton Area to gain clearer insights into public affairs through a broad-gauged program concerned with "the realities" rather than with the "Cloud 9 aspirations" of assorted political candidates. This year, as the state copes with the problems of apportionment and with "the age of depersonalized government," the League is organizing a nationwide $11-million campaign for its chapters in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Chartered nationally in 1920 with the ratification of the 19th Amendment (Woman's Suffrage) to the U.S. Constitution, and direct descendants of the single-minded National American Woman Suffrage Association, the League from the beginning has been an articulate lobby in the public interest. It is non-partisan. As a recent president of the Princeton League stressed: "It takes action in support of, or in opposition to, selected governmental issues; however, it does not support or oppose candidates, nor does it support, or oppose political parties." Nor will it permit an officer or Board Member to participate in "active party work" on behalf of a candidate while holding a League office!

On the local scene, the members of the League are drawn from five municipalities — Princeton Borough and Township, Montgomery Township, West Windsor Township and Rocky Hill. "We are long on study," says Mrs. Harry Beskind, President, for "when our members reach consensus, we're really have the facts." For example, when the members of the Human Rights Commission of the Borough and Township recently listened to three pages of ideas presented by the League, they were hearing suggestions gleaned over a 3-year period of intensive study in the housing field. It all started in 1966 when the League's local Housing Committee investigated the supply of low and moderate housing in Princeton and found it to be markedly inadequate.

The Montgomery unit of the Princeton Area League, an extremely promising area from the point of view of light industry, has been involved in a water-management study. Members cheerfully reported the results of their local water survey on local radio, sent fliers to all residents on septic system maintenance, (mailing of which was financed by the Township Committee), prepared materials for the High School's conservation program and supported establishment of a local Conservation Commission.

On the other hand, over in West Windsor, League members have studied local recreational programs and facilities, and with the cooperation of local industry, are working for the expansion of the program, preservation of Open Space and fully-equipped recreation sites. Members are appearing at budget hearings of the Township Board of Education and the Township Committee to press for these goals, and are now gathering information about future land-use in the Township.

For "constituting the goingest group around;" for their dedication to the continued well-being of representative government; for seeking to provide facts in areas in which all too often opinions are accepted as fact; these women are TOWN TOPICS' nominees as

MAILMAN'S HERITAGE
Every Dog a Letter. Will Princeton's school children grow up to write as many letters-to-the-editor as their parents do? What will people write about after dogs are no longer news?

In this week's "Mailbox" are two letters in strong support of the school board, plus a letter which deplores "sooper dramatics" in the school situation.

There are both sides of that dog controversy, including a letter which asks, "Is a dog not under leash still under control?"

A letter regarding the public library and one from a reader who suddenly missed the Audubon Society, and a letter suggesting that Princeton University take over the public school system.

Let University Run Schools.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I have thought much on the problems of the Princeton Regional Schools, and of suggested solutions to them. I am of the opinion that the present crisis because of the lack of property taxes here, and I have one suggestion to make.

Have Princeton University set up a Department of Education on both the graduate and undergraduate level, then a detailed study should be made on the efficacy of the University taking over the properties, staff, maintenance, and curricula, both present and future of the Princeton Regional Schools.

It would be an extremely radical move, a move without precedent in this country. There are problems of course, of tuition, of fund raising, of student dissent affecting the schools, legal problems, and so on.

But think of the advantages. The citizenry would no longer have to worry so much about experimental, future building programs, and so on, for such procedures would be the responsibility of the University, not the local governments.

A large percentage of the budget would be eliminated, and therefore property taxes could be lowered to a more bearable level, and directed to other charities. The University could have new life breathed into it by greatly assisting the community.

I suggest very strongly that this so-called Beneficial Octopus Plan be considered and debated by all those concerned. Let us have a frank discussion of the advantages and disadvantages. If this is ignored, then it will be an indication of indifference, which should not be typical of a community such as Princeton with its liberal viewpoints on so many subjects.

Any glossing over of the Beneficial Octopus Plan will be an invitation to a potential disastrous crisis, which I one would like to avoid. The Tax Boycott, mentioned in various parts of this nation.

We must run this crisis in the hope that we will resort to the old formula. When the crisis is upon us, then do something about it, which as we all know from modern history, is a bad formula indeed.

Riverside Soap Opera.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

As parents of a kindergartner at Riverside, we are tired of the soap opera dramatics. Mrs. Packard resigned her board position last year, and that was resigning for personal reasons, and they had accepted her resignation. As parents and students, we accept her resignation in good faith. Surely anyone should be allowed the dignity to resign.

Not set off by the ensuing rumors, we are still in quality with Supi McPherson tearing down all the walls within Riverside, and the students thrown into a mass Disneyian playground. Riverside is experiencing a decline in academic achievement. This is not true, as I'd never heard Dr. McPherson specify "any" designs for Riverside.

With her departure, Mrs. Packard called a meeting with virtually no notice for parents. My child was already home for the day. The known saga continues. Mrs. Packard is declining her resignation, and her parents and thanking us for our support. Support for or against what? She then notified the Board of this decision. Logically, the parents were concerned to know that this mythical sea saw will end.

Let the Schools Alone.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am only ten weeks since I finished my term on the School Board, and I am dismayed at what is being done to the school system by uninformed and vituperative comments.

Much if not most of the "facts" alleged in recent "letters to the editor" are wrong and many of them are based on a poor understanding of the procedures by which the school system must operate. I beg the community to come to its senses, to stand back and let its elected representatives live up to the school system and to avoid destructive controversy. The victims of the present dissension will be our children, now and in the future.

Much has been accomplished since the Regionalization though as with most educational changes the effects are not immediately visible and the strains are painful.

The school system is beginning to realize the improvements that Regionalization made. The greatly improved middle school, better coordination throughout the system, improved vocational programs, vastly increased assistance to children with special handicaps, better racial integration (numerically, in spirit, and in course content), increased utilization of government programs, and improved financial administration.

Moreover a district wide at-

SIDS Plots Spring Offensive

Students for a Democratic Society, have announced plans for a "Spring offensive," beginning with a march and rally this Friday, the same day that the University trustees will meet.

The student group plans to submit a list of demands to the trustees and promises to "initiate actions to stop ROTC."

The rally will be organized around the slogans "Smash Imperialism" and "Solidarity with Harvard."

SIDS also plans to drop ROTC and provide university scholarships to replace the $250,000 that undergraduates get through ROTC.

Other demands include:

1. Stop military and counter-revolutionary research and consulting, and open university facilities to the community.

tempt to institutionalize future improvement has been undertaken, placing increasing responsibility on the teachers (wherever he belongs) and providing new opportunities for community participation. And in a system that must attract and retain 20% of its teachers every year, there has been an upgrading of quality through improved recruitment and selection. In all this Dr. Peterson has taken the lead, with the support of the School Board — and it is a substantial record.

This is not to deny that mistakes have been made. The "Community Program" is a failure, and will be discontinued. The procedures for administering principals will be revised. Greater efforts will be made to keep the community informed about changes, but there will and must be changes; otherwise we cannot improve.

Is there anyone who believes that good as it is, our system is good enough now? If so, let him consider the problems just in the high schools, but at all levels there are the problems of growing up, the problems of our society, and the problems of our community.

But these problems are not going to be solved by sharp letters to the editor or accusations or innuendos at public meetings. They can be attacked only by hard thought and effort by our teachers and administrators and by our School Board.

Nor can the community at large deal effectively with questions of individual salaries or appointments — or resignations! Can the public really know what is going on? Can the public be responsible with delicate questions of personnel? If you don't like what the Board does, elect someone else next time: but the school system is your elected them; they are dedicated and responsible citizens.

As for Dr. Packard, Dr. McPherson, I would like to record my support as giving him my full support. I do not agree with him on various minor issues, as indeed I have disagreed with him several times. But members on various issues over the years, but I respect his intelligence and dedication and ability, and I believe that under his leadership we have our best chance of achieving our aspirations for our children.

If he can't do the job, it will be mainly because he hasn't let him — and if he should leave (as some seem to hope), will you find another man to take his place? Would another equally qualified man be so foolish as to follow him, seeing how he has been and is being treated? Well qualified, dedicated, and experienced teachers and administrators are in great demand, and they are not enough of them to go around.

Being Superintendent in this community is a great opportunity only if the community is willing to tolerate and support change leading to improvement. If Dr. McPherson leaves, all we will get will be a change in superintendence. The school system will be set back at least five years, and the promise of Regionalization will have largely disappeared.

Schools Deserve Support.

To the Editor of Town Topics.

I'm mad! For weeks many of us have been going through our busy days shaking our heads over the interminable talk about the gossiping and the backbiting going on in print concerning our school administration. We have been quietly waiting for the sap to settle.

While waiting, we have been amused by some who have been so preoccupied with the supposedly radical college students that they are demanding ousted from the university what seems nothing constructive to make the system work. What an easy, useless course to take. Allow me to make a few points:

1. Personnel questions, in schools or business, are not public property. The utmost discretion is necessary. Resignations must be accepted in good faith as coming from individual circumstances.

Resignations are never to be considered as threats or warnings to others to change. A warning with a threat to realize that the employer has much more information about an employee than may be available to the general public, like idea of success-matters as is sensible as taking sides in a divorce when one only knows one partner's story.

2. We have a nine member

Board of Education with impressive credentials. The most important of these is courage. They have put themselves in a vulnerable, thankless position because of their interest in Princeton schools, all of them, not just Riverside. They can't be expected to have a theory that had three school boards I'll bet that they would come out pretty neat the top.

3. We are fortunate to have an extremely able, well-qualified Superintendent of Schools who arrived in Princeton just in time to take the bull by the horns. He has been very impressed with his stand at that Memorable Monday Meeting of March 31.

His priorities are valid and the same as those of leading schools all over the country. This is no time to pull a "but not in Princeton." How sad that some persons were disappointed in him. There was no bemoaning or bashed-up Unpleasant lievable. Courage, Dr. McPherson, will prevail.

4. As though it's only high school students tried so patiently to explain their stand, will give an new opinion, on, not select the new principal. Judging from her presentation and that of a student at a previous Board meeting, high school students are not only better informed

many adults, they also have better manners. I am encouraged for the future.

If I were entitled to a complaint only after an hour of effort directed for the schools, the situation would calm down shortly. Instead of that, Mrs. McPherson, turn backs, how about joining the team? The team cheer could be, "Support Your Local Schools."

Library, We Thank You.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On the supposition that you might like a change of pace from your school-problem letters, may I submit the following:

In the midst of the town's burly-burly, an unknown number of quiet, thoughtful persons produce some of the best windows displays in Princeton. I refer to the eye catching exhibits at the Public Library. They are original, well-executed and thoroughly enjoyable.

The photographs last month were memorable and the children still talk of "Twas the Night Before Christmas" at the Library. Thank you, whoever you are, for providing this pleasant "extra" in our busy lives.

Editor's Note

"Whoever you are" is very nearly the entire professional staff of the library, according to librarian Robert Staples. Miss Martha Powers is overall coordinator of winter displays. Rowland Bennett is the recent one on hobbies; Mrs. Margaret Bennett is working on a forthcoming map exhibit which will pinpoint the home of everyone in Princeton who used the library during April. Other staff window-designers are Miss Jo Ellen Moore, Mrs. Betty Medley and Mrs. Helen Deppert, and Miss Therese Critchlow. The young lady who did "Twas the Night Before Christmas" has moved away.

Fate of Audubon Center?

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Not too long ago the Princeton area was enriched with the opening of the National Audubon Society's Stony Ford Audubon Center.

It operated under the capable direction of Douglas T. Dickinson (and family), and for a period of about two years the center's development of facilities and programs for wildlife and their habitat miners seemed to be thriving.

What appeared an immensely attractive and popular community resource was closed abruptly and to this date I —Continued on Page 14

DIRECTOR FIRED
By Youth Center, Wilbur L. Williamson, 32, director of the Princeton Youth Center, was dismissed by the adult board on Thursday. He is the second director to be fired by the board within two years.

The action touched off a demonstration Saturday by about 60 black youths, who patrolled Nassau Street and Green Streets in front of the building carrying signs, "We Want Wilbur." They threatened to close the Center this week.

George Lee, a former star basketball player at Trenton High School, has been hired on a part-time basis. He worked at the Center during the vacation. Mr. Williamson was given by the board in March. Mr. Lee is among those who have been interviewed to replace Mr. Williamson.

The adult board's executive committee issued a statement saying that Thursday's meeting was held "to begin the mandated review of the Center personnel: the center director and the program director.

Need for Change Felt. "I completed the performance evaluation of Mr. Williamson, Center director," the statement continued, "and the board found that Mr. Williamson could not continue to function satisfactorily and effectively as Center director. The personnel review will continue."

The Center will continue to operate to serve the youth of Princeton. Mr. George Lee of Trenton is being hired on a part-time basis and has been working with the youth during Mr. Williamson's vacation. He will continue to assist the program director, Mrs. Natalie Webb.

For the record, the brief statement from the executive committee said, "The Youth Center is all that is officially talked about in TOWN TOPICS. One of its officials talked at length to TOWN TOPICS, but was asked to keep his remarks kept off the record."

Thomas Griggs, a senior at Princeton High School and president of the Center's youth board, said Saturday that the directors had left the youth only in generalities, saying that the director "did his job in some ways, but not in others."

"We're waiting for the adult board to tell the truth for a change," he told TOWN TOPICS. "If nothing happens we are going to see the mayor."

A Right to Know. He said that the youth board wants to know why Mr. Williamson was fired. "We have a right to know things. And we can't know if it's a good reason or not. If it wasn't, we want him reinstated."

The youth board, he said, objected to the closed and sometimes "secret" meetings of the adult board. It also believes that a minority group in the black community is "trying to speak for the majority."

He added, "I don't think we will boycott the Center right now. It is a place to meet and talk this over, but we will cut it right out of nothing happens."

Harold Logan, president of the adult board, has credited Wilbur Williamson with a "phenomenal job in hard core work." He has said the center is supposed to provide facilities for both black and white teenagers.

William Kight of the Trinity Church staff, a Princeton Seminary student who has been working with Princeton youth for the past four years, commented to TOWN TOPICS on Monday:

"One of the functions of the Youth Center board is to make available a community center where where black and white kids can go together. And that runs right smack in the face of history."

"Because if anything ought to be clear by now, it ought to be that black people and white people are going to live separately for the time being until both have what they perceive to be an equal identity."

Black Leaders Needed. He said that Princeton needs to take people from its black community and develop them into leaders. The Youth Center saw its chance to do this when they placed Mr. Williamson in this position less than a year ago. They have apparently lost sight of the fact that when you take a man from one position and put him in another, he has to be trained and there are some things that is just not going to know. But Mr. Williamson did run the Youth Center, and he ran it well.

"And the identity of the kids who were in the Youth Center was an important one with Mr. Williamson, from the personality of the man who ran it. And now that identity has been broken because the man no longer exists, and they have not even given reasons that they understand as to why he is not there."

Youth Associates, under the direction of G. Rogers Carrington, began their wholesale youth business in Princeton seven years ago. Most of the things that exist today were created by Youth Associates, in fact, Rogers Carrington designed.

"And whether he had weaknesses as a director or not, whether he had come to the point where he felt he had achieved his greatness or maybe, as occurs in the ministry many times, if you want people to grow, you have to get out of the way." But the board seems to be confused and confused of a community soon to say goodbye to a man who devoted seven years.

"Now the same thing has happened to Wilbur Williamson. Youth Associates is not organized, not really knowing where it is headed. The Youth Center, for all practical purposes, is dead. There can be no future, long term, the current board remains in control. The board, in the minds of the youth, has lied to them, has misrepresented facts and has not answered their questions."

"This casts a pall across the whole youth work scene."

Both parties are still looking for candidates to run for mayor of the Borough and Borough Councilman, and the Democrats are still tracking down quarry for Township Committee.

In the Borough, where Rep. Republican Mayor Henry S. Patterson announced last week that he would not seek a fifth term, the first name talk is running John F. Hoff, Jr., 41 Westcott Road, as a Fusion candidate.

Mr. Hoff is the grandson of a Princeton Democrat who was mayor of the Borough in the late 1920's. The present Mr. Hoff is well regarded by both Republicans and Democrats.

Also in the Borough, Republicans are trying to convince Councilman Charles Cornforth that he should raise his sights and run for mayor, instead of seeking re-election to Council.

Mr. Cornforth, a Democrat, is Robert Hendry, Democrat, are the only Borough candidates announced so far. Both are running for a second term.

Into Shopping Center, Macy's may not tell Gimbel's, but Macy's has no qualms about telling off the landlord.

R. H. Macy, which is the parent of Bamberger's, has charged the George Washington, owner of the Princeton Shopping Center, has defaulted in his obligation under Bamberger's lease to construct an addition the Bamberger store in the Center.

In a letter to Mr. Warnecke, a copy of which has been sent to Mrs. Sue Ann Nystrom, secretary of the Township Planning Board, and to W. Joseph Shinn, building inspector, the Macy attorney charges that Mr. Warnecke's alleged de-fault has deprived them of profits. The assumption is that Mr. Warnecke will find himself in court arraigned against the Macy lawyers.

Mr. Warnecke has also withdrawn his consent to construction of a new A & P building in the Shopping Center. By a court order, the new A & P and the Bamberger's addition, have been treated by the Township as a parcel.

Meanwhile, the Township itself will be in court soon with the Shopping Center which site man does not apply the Bamberger's A & P, and Mr. Warnecke's complaint has been filed against Township Committee and Mr. Shinn as building inspector.

10 OFFICE BUILDINGS?
Proposed? For Township? A complex of 10 one-story office buildings, comprising 70,000 square feet was discussed informally Monday night before the Township Planning Board.

"Princeton Executive Park" would be constructed at the east side of Mt. Lucas, just north of the Ewing interest of the 15-plus acres in the Engineering zone, the remainder in a residential zone.

John P. Scozari presented the plans for the Park Lane Company whose principals are William Kasenetz and Jerome Heller of Princeton. The Mt. Lucas land had been the property of Robert Lew of Baltimore.

Professional offices and of fice reserves would be the use of the site, the architect Mr. Scozari said. He told the Board that an unidentified architect might have offices there and a firm Mr. Scozari referred to as "an educational testing service, but not E.T.S."

The dual zoning presents problems which some thought a problem since the zoning ordinance doesn't allow park in within the required buffer between zones.

Mr. Scozari said he will confer with George K. Matsuda, architect of the buildings, and an engineer to see whether parking can be re moved from the site. There's plenty of land for parking, he said; it's just a matter of moving it around. He said some of the buildings might be changed to two stories.

20 MORE SPACES . . .
For Hospital Parking
Princeton Hospital can lay out some 20 additional parking spaces — possibly as many as 23 — in a temporary parking spot on Harris Road off Witherspoon.

The Township Planning Board overruled the site plan committee and decided the Hospital won't have to build a fence along one border. It can use a six-foot or half foot high hedge already there, if the hedge is fed and given tender nursing care so it will grow to be healthier than it now is.

Also, the lot won't have to be chained off at night; however, if the hospital decides areas are required, the Hospital will have to install them. The entrance-exit will be on Harris.

The Planning Board passed along to its attorney, Lester Pierson, the vexing questions of a five lot subdivision stretching back from the Princeton-Kingston Road.

With Augustine wants to construct five houses on only 4.22 acres and a narrow plot at that. About a dozen neighbors of the proposed development will be on White Pine Lane and Lower Larchwood. A protest was made before the board to protest and suggest. One resident pointed out to the board that he would find himself bounded on three sides by streets.

Mr. Pierson's assignment is to do some research on just what alternatives the Planning Board has.

The Church of Christ has been granted an Open Space Commission the letter of endorsement required by the state before a "fill" permit can be granted for the church's land on River Road.

"WE DID HELP"
Lester Pierson, Chief Report, Police Chief William F. Seabridge of Lawrence Township, said this week that he regards as "unsubstantiated" the assertion of Borough Councilman Alice Male that Lawrence police were uncooperative in pursuing a youth who was thought to possess narcotics.

Mrs. Male's statement was made during proceedings in last week's TOWN TOPICS.

Chief Seabridge said that the incident, which occurred in September, 1965, involved two

A question developed concerning the legality of the Borough's search warrant since the Borough itself Lawrence police kept the boys until Princeton police decided what action to take and then released them without charges an hour or two after they had first been stopped.

Informed of Chief Seabridge's account, Mrs. Male said that apparently she had been misinformed.

RENT HIKES PROTESTED

On Butter Tract Housing, Graduate students living in dormitory houses on Harrison Street have been given assurance that the University administration will "take another look" at the original rent increases announced for the semester.

Concerned about the 18 to 20% jump in rents in housing they termed unsound standards, fire traps and health hazards, the students organized opposition to the raises. A meeting last week with President Robert F. Goheen led to another session Monday night with the members of the faculty and the graduate school as well as the treasurer and provost.

Representatives of the Butler Tract were told a committee, composed of Deans Richard A. Lester, Colin S. Pittendrige and Aaron Lomonick, would review the proposed rent increases and future graduate living policies with graduate student representatives. At least one resident of Butler, Lawrence Apartments, the modern college-style other off campus building will be included in the meeting.

Residents of the Butler Tract were unhappy with the fact that the housing, while the worst physically of those involved, is scheduled for the largest percentage increases, bringing rents up close to those paid by students in the modern Lawrence Court apartments. The Butler Tract housing was constructed during World War II.

Rents for Butler Housing range from $32-$55 for unrenovated apartments to $60-$75 for renovated units depending on size. The proposed increase would push those in the lower category up to $60 and $65, and the renovated ones up to $30 and $35 respectively. Lawrence Court residence apartments would be boosted from $95 to $110, and the low-rise units from $115 to $130.

While this is low in comparison with apartments around town, Joseph Starita, chairman of the Butler Project Committee, said that more than 50% of the students now residing in the project were living on their graduate fellowships alone, and the great majority of these grants totaled $3,000 or less.

A basic reason for the protest was the feeling by the students that the rent increase was imposed without their consent, since they had no

FIRE AT HIGH SCHOOL

In Music Room. A fire in a musical storage room across from the auditorium of Princeton High School Monday morning destroyed three doors and four ceiling panels; few other instruments inside cases were less severely damaged.

First on the scene were teachers Sylvan Friedman and Jack Horner of the school's music department, whose offices are just across the hall. They were joined by other teachers and about a dozen parents who fought the blaze until firemen arrived. By the time the one piece of equipment from Company No. 3 arrived, the fire was virtually extinguished.

School principal Kenneth Michael said that John Scott, a grade and industry teacher, and the cafeteria particularly active in fighting the blaze. He added the cause of the fire is still being investigated by school and fire officials.

The smoke was first seen by several students who pulled the alarm. At the same time, an automatic detecting device triggered a "yellow" signal at police headquarters. The entire student body evacuated the school at 9:30. The alarm was sounded at 9:24; firemen left the scene at 9:53.

Fire at Choir College. A fire at Westminster Choir College at 12:20 Monday morning was confined to a portion of Room 101 of North Hall, the new building erected in the former roadway of Franklin Avenue.

Police reported that the occupant of the room, Dennis Johnson, had apparently fallen asleep with a candle burning. His mattress and pillow had caught fire.

Students had extinguished the fire and tossed the mattress outside by the time police arrived on the scene. Mr. Johnson was not injured.

Blanket Fire. Borough and Township patrol cars answered a fire call at the home of Mrs. Marjorie C. Baker, 142 Mercer

Street, at 12:20 Tuesday morning and Ptl. Frank Boccanfuso of the Township.

On the way back from the Lambertville area, Simonen, a physician with the Forrestal Research Laboratories, saw the tires of an overturned automobile, and felt certain that it was not an abandoned piece of junk because of the new tread on them.

He located a State Trooper parked in a police car near Titusville. Cooper, who lives in the area at Belle Mountain and notified him of his discovery. A tow truck was summoned, dragging the car from the water and ending the search for Bruce E. Owsley.

The West Windsor Citizens Advisory Committee on Education in a memo to residents of the township this week urged a "yes" vote on merging.

Both districts must plan without delay for the high school they will need when their students with Princeton expire. Both districts, the memo points out, have school systems with small classes, well-qualified teachers and plenty of room. West Windsor, which is larger, offers more special services than Plainsboro. Both districts could have, if they merge, more extensive and efficient programs.

The proposed West Windsor-Plainsboro high school might eventually include Cranbury and Washington Township, as well.

It could have a maximum capacity of 1,800 students, but initial construction would be for 1,200 students.

There would be three "hour modules" of 275-350 students each; one house for grades seven and eight, and two for grades nine through 12.

The high school would open in 1971-72 for grades 7-12 for West Windsor and Plainsboro or 9-12 for the other two plus Cranbury, according to proposals in the memo.

Most residents of the two townships believe the merger will be approved. No opposition was expressed at a public meeting held in Plainsboro on Monday of this week.

David Geddes, a Harvard freshman and son of architect Daniel Hobart L. Geddes, was injured by club-wielding police who were trying to eject student demonstrators from Harvard's Union Hall last week.

The dean's son was among 20 protesters who had locked arms on the steps of the occupied building to prevent them from breaking into the hall to clear out some 200 stu-

Cars Broken Into At 1 a.m. Saturday, Edward L. Givernon of 136 Alexander Street reported to police that his car, parked in front of 120 Prospect Avenue, had been broken into. Taken were a stereo tape recorder and a radio which ripped from the dashboard of the car — and the car's four hubcaps.

Mr. Givernon placed a value of $165 on the objects. Police said a front vent window had been forced open.

The same method was used to break into the car of William J. Klemm, 102 Park Hall, Princeton University. He told police he had parked his car on Roper Lane (off Prospect) at 5 Friday evening and discovered it had been entered around 6 Saturday morning. A stereo player and a speaker were taken from his car.

COUPLE ROBBED

By GENEVA NEAL LAKES, A couple in a car parked near Lake Carnegie were robbed Sunday night shortly before 11 by two men, one of whom was armed with a chrome revolver.

Detective Samuel Bianco of Township Police identified the

Commuters to Have More Parking Space

The cross-quilt pattern of commuter cars parked askew on the sprawling parameter of the Penn-Central parking lot at Princeton Junction will apparently soon be a part of the past.

The railroad will take steps within the next two weeks to contract for the construction of a new lot which will have a capacity of 1,000 spaces. The existing, long over-crowded lot holds 600 cars.

West Windsor Township Mayor Malcolm B. Rozzel announced at Monday's municipal meeting that Penn-Central officials have agreed that action is essential now. No estimated time for completion of the project was given.

In the present situation, Township Committee has been caught between the complaints of disasperated commuters and Princeton Junction residents. The former, finding the metered lots full park in fringe areas which are not metered or unpatrolled. The residents, finding the streets in front of their homes filled with unwanted cars, have been insisting that no-parking legislation be enforced.

In other action at Monday's meeting, a major change in appearance of the junction of Broad and Quaker Bridge Road was approved. American Cyanamid received permission, following agreement on the part of the zoning board, to construct a $1 million research building on land it already occupies there.

Victims as David Bushar, 22 110 Lawrence Road, Lawrence Township, and Gail Myernick, 18, of Trenton. According to the police, the two were sitting in the car when they were approached by two men, both males. The man armed with the revolver demanded money from Mr. Bushar and he handed over his wallet containing $5.

After throwing Mr. Bushar's wallet back in the car, the gunman then asked if Miss Myernick had any money. She said when her escort said "No" the gunman slapped him across the face. At this, Miss Myernick handed over her purse which contained a $10 bill and $3 in change.

Before fleeing on foot in the direction of the Jadwin Cage, police said one of the two men took a key from the ignition key from the car and threw it in the direction of the lake. Detective Bianco said the couple were unable to give a good description of the pair.

The incident took place on Lake Road, south of Faculty Drive, Ptl. Dr. David Potts and Ptl. Olindo Carnevale investigated.

STUDENTS ASSAULTED

By Five Youths, Two Princeton University students were the target of a gang of five youths who harassed and intermittently assaulted them on Witherspoon Street Saturday night.

The students—Rex D. Hume, and Richard Popiel, 19, both of 1940 Hall, were treated at Princeton Hospital and released to university proctors. They were really picked up by Chief Peter J. McCrohan. One had a cut on the nose and ear where he had been slugged, and one had a lump on the back of his head where he had been struck by a stone.

The five youths — all juveniles — were charged with juvenile delinquency and were released in the custody of their parents. Chief McCrohan said that petitions will be signed, referring them to Mercer County Juvenile Judge J. W. Newell.

MUSIC STORE ENTRY
Ends In Sour Note. An attempted robbery at Young's Music Shop, Princeton Shopping Center, ended when the two thieves were frightened off by Sgt. Jack Petrone.

According to Detective Sam Baum, two young men ran into the mall in the center and managed to escape when Sgt. Petrone drove up and gave pursuit. At the rear of the music store, he said, they found a VW microphone which had been stolen completely loaded with musical instruments. The two had gained entry to the store by prying open a vent on the roof.

The attempted robbery took place at 4:20 Wednesday morning. Sgt. Petrone, Ptl Frank Bazzafuso and Ptl David Funk are continuing the investigation.

BOROUGH ROOM Entered
Borough Police report that a window was forced open Tuesday afternoon to gain entry to Room 311 of The Graduate School. The occupant, Robert Baum and clothing, was not disturbed and radio was missing. He valued the items at $29. Once again the Young Center on Witherspoon Street was entered and the room full of pool tables inside rifled. The entry via a window took place Sunday but was not discovered until 2:30 Tuesday. The center has been closed due to administrative problems. (See page 3.)

15 ARE FINED

In Borough Traffic Court Of the 32 cases heard for Borough traffic court Monday night, 15 ended in fines to Princeton area drivers.

Seven were fined for speed by Judge Theodore T. Tamm Jr. The fines ranged from $30; M. Coursen, 18, 495 Kingsland, 37, 8 Random Road, $30, while Read, $35; James E. Green, Franklin L. Woolford, 21, 181

Trash? Not Yet!

It won't be clean-up week until April 28 to May 2, but already many of summer weekends and other householders have piled up the debris already on their curb.

Administrator Robert F. Mooney sends out a frantic note. "Please wait!" The weekend of April 25, 26 and 27 you can put up all the trash you want, and debris you like, but until then, please hold off.

Brush may have raked up and left together in one man alone can lift it. If you pack leaves into a plastic bag or box, that too can be no heavier or bulkier than one man can carry.

But wait until April 28,

Witherspoon Street, paid $15 for failing to be accompanied by a licensed driver while driving under a learner's permit. Mr. Wei W. Chen, 31, 643 Rosedale Road, was fined $10 for using plates that were not his.

READY, ROCK BANDS?
The Rock Marathon Contest, featuring Princeton Hospital Fete for many Junes, will be held again on April 26 and the rock band auditions are just around next weekend.

The entry deadline is Monday, April 21, and the fee is $5 per group. Auditions will be held May 3 and 10.

The contest is open to groups in the 13-18 years of age bracket and/or seventh through 12th grade. Groups will be notified on April 3; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Spruill, R. D. 4, Box 309, will judge and what time to show up for the competition.

The $5 fee, cash or check, should be sent to P.O. Box 180, Princeton. Proceeds will go to the DiMaggio, 180 Franklin Street, on April 26.

Entry coupon is on page 13 well, on April 8.

Approve Dog Proposals.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
In its letters to the press the Committee for Responsible People and Animals has effectively made the point that satisfaction in owning a dog and the dog's welfare are in no way dependent on the running of large. The opinions of dog experts confirm this.

The proposed 12-hour restraint (with the leash requirement) will be an effective beginning for sensible dog control in Princeton.

HARRY S. REICHARD
DIANE P. REICHARD
301 Riverside Drive

Dog Restraint Meaningless.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
This is a copy of a letter that has been sent to Township Mayor Wallace:

"The nature of the restraint in the proposed amendments to the dog ordinance is so vague as to make the ordinance legally meaningless.

"It is a dog not under leash standards which are proposed. So how far can the dog stray from its master and still be in accord with the proposed regulations?"

A person be victimized by a dog before it is deemed that the dog is not under control?

We can not accept any amendments which leave the meaning of the law unclear or which put the responsibility for enforcement again on the victim.

MURRAY GERSTENHABER
Committee for Responsible
People and Animals

Oppose Dog Amendments

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Citizens' Committee for Fair, Enforceable Dog Control has opposed the proposed ordinance announced by the Princeton Township Committee April 2nd which will be enacted as law April 21st.

With further public hearings

we believe the amendments substituting "control" by a responsible person" for the leash requirement represent a significant step toward responsible dog control. The ordinance will not solve the dog problem because there is no provision for effective measures to implement it, making a total leash law for Princeton inevitable.

Committee, therefore, urges Township Committee to provide a review and discussion with interested citizens of the means it proposes to implement before it votes on the amendment to ordinance.

We believe that the ordinance to be voted upon April 21 does not meet the need for identification and control of offending dogs and is not responsive to the needs of Princeton for a dog control ordinance because:

1. It does not provide for nor have we been told by the Township Committee what plans for improved methods and machinery for effective enforcement of any ordinance.

The Township Committee should not expect the citizens to accept an ordinance that is not coupled with effective measures to implement it; these are mutually dependent; and one without the other makes a mockery of each.

2. It does not offer the public a means of registering a complaint and taking action without the risk of antagonizing friends and neighbors.

3. The recognized problem of dogs following children to school and causing problems on school grounds in the early hours will not be effectively controlled.

4. Catering to expediency, the Township Committee has essentially retained as a compromise an arbitrary schedule of daylight control and is defauling on its obligation to the citizens to forge a reasonable and enforceable solution now. To postpone for a future time the uninvited task of dealing with another inevitable series of hearings in six months, or a year or two, involving the residents yet again, dogs and have always confined them within an enclosure on their own properties or walked them on leashes or, if it is most unfair to them and others, not allowed to use leashes at all. One member, a breeder of dogs, has NEVER been able to walk his dogs in Princeton because he cannot afford to fight between loose dogs and his highly prized animals.

With our statement to the Township Committee at the hearing on March 3rd, we had a petition carrying over 1,500 signatures of Township residents obtained in one week. This was accompanied by a formal or substantial constructive recommendation which we believed would help to render the present ordinance effective and responsive to the problem, but which has apparently been disregarded or rejected. Among them were:

1. Total restraint from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m., the critical school and playground hours and of major home delivery activity.

2. Full time Dog Control Officers, who, freed from constant patrolling of school property, could concentrate on problem areas clean out the offending dogs, thereby bringing to a minimum dog offenses during hours of day and night.

3. A group of citizens to serve as a clearing house for complaints by reluctant dog victims, as an auxiliary to the Dog Control Officer, and as a monitor of dog activities.

4. Requirement that the existence of a bona fide bite be verified by a physician before penalties for biting are imposed.

(The letter was prepared by Edward C. Hutter, Marvin Alerde, Mrs. Charles Hanan, William Adamson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Donovan Ellis, Mrs. Robert A. Kamm and Mrs. Charles Mapes Jr.)

Stiffer Dog Law Needed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Committee for Responsible People and Animals has followed objections to the proposed dog law amendments:

1. In a playground or school yard a dog may be under the "control" of its young owner but still attack other children, eat sandwiches and disrupt other playground activities.

2. Any control ceases when one's dog decides to go after a female dog in season.

3. The recognized problem of dogs following children to school and causing problems on school grounds in the early hours will not be effectively controlled.

4. Catering to expediency, the Township Committee has done and have always confined them within an enclosure on their own properties or walked them on leashes or, if it is most unfair to them and others, not allowed to use leashes at all. One member, a breeder of dogs, has NEVER been able to walk his dogs in Princeton because he cannot afford to fight between loose dogs and his highly prized animals.

4. Most important, if a law is not reported as effective, it is not effective. We feel that the proposed law is no better than the one we already have. "Accompanied by and under the control of a responsible person" is definitely vague and legally meaningless.

It would put responsibility for enforcement on the victim, while it has always been on Princeton.

It must be remembered that dogs will still be completely at large for 12 hours every day, and for another twelve to be a time when we can move about the Township with complete freedom.

HEALTH HINTS

LET'S WALK

You may have heard a TV commercial from a bank, asking you to mail a check rather than walk a distance to pay a bill.

Are people to forget that walking IS HEALTHY?

The chiropractic profession, specialists in the care of the back, advises that improper lifting, work habits, and impact accidents cause the majority of a large percentage of the estimated 28 millions of Americans who seek professional help for backaches each year.

Proper walking is a healthy exercise for many muscles, including those of the lower back. Slump-sitting stretches and weakens the supporting muscles and ligaments of the lower back. And, the time one spends in proper walking is time taken away from slump-sitting at home or in the auto.

It is good spinal hygiene to walk (tall) those four, eight or twelve blocks to pay that bill or buy a paper. Let your chiropractor — not some commercial, be your guide to walking.

Obituaries

Charles T. Cowenhoven, Jr., of 101 Princeton Road, died
April 10 at Princeton Hospital after a lingering illness. A Princeton resident since 1925, he was 90 years old.

Mr. Cowenhoven was a specialist in admiralty law and had practiced in New York City for more than 30 years.
A native of New Brunswick, he was the son of George and Mrs. T. Cowenhoven. He graduated from Rutgers University in 1900 and earned his law degree at the New York Law School.

In 1905, he was admitted to the Bar of the State of New York. Subsequently, he was admitted to the Bars of the Supreme Court of the United States, and of a number of Federal and Circuit Courts in the east and south, and practiced before all of them.

For the greater part of his career in New York, he was associated with the firm of Cowenhoven, Murphy and McGrath, joining it in 1917. He became a partner and continued active practice until his retirement in 1935. While a member of the profession, his activities were with admiralty matters; his practice also included probate and estate law, the management of estates, income tax, and a number of American corporations and specialization in Federal taxation.

Mr. Cowenhoven was an active member of Springdale Golf Club for many years, and his resignation at the age of 85 was accepted by the club members. He also belonged to the Nassau Club, and in New York, to the University and Club and Indi House.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Cowenhoven, a daughter, Mrs. Pauline Stahl, all of Princeton; a son, Nicholas P. Cowenhoven of Grafton, Mass.; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held at Trinity Church, followed by burial in Rocky Hill Cemetery, under direction of the Maher Funeral Home. Contributions may be made in his memory to the scholarship funds of Rutgers University.

Mrs. Phoebe L. Davis, 80, of 58 Allison Road, died April 9 in Princeton Hospital. She was the widow of Pierpon V. Davis, formerly of Ossining, N.Y.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Casper Pennock of Princeton and Mrs. B. Franklin Eshleman of Villanova, Pa.; three sons, one of whom is a sister, Mrs. Paul Tommisen of Princeton; and two brothers, Henry B. Trout of Chestnut Hill, Mass., and Curtis Pennock of Parsippany, N.J.

The service was held in Trinity Episcopal Church, the Rev. James Whittemore officiating. Interment was private, with arrangements made by the Maher Funeral Home.

Alfred B. Skillman, 84, of 65 Patton Avenue, died April 11 in Princeton Hospital. He was a retired painting contractor. Mr. Skillman, a native of Princeton, was a former professional baseball pitcher, playing for the Newark Bears in the early 1900's. He was a member of Trinity Church and of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, Local 452. Surviving are two sons, J.V. Skillman of Princeton, and William S. Skillman of Freeport, N.J.

The service was held in the Maher Funeral Home, the Rev. E. Rugby Auer, vicar of Trinity Church, officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth McCullough Genutis, 75, of 82 Grover Avenue died April 12 in Princeton Hospital. Born in Pittsburgh, she was a member of St. Paul's Church.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Robert W. DeWitt and Mrs. John Anderson Jr. of Princeton and Mrs. Almerie Dercu of New Brunswick; three brothers, William and Richard Butland of Warren, Ohio; and a brother, Deborn, Mich.; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Solemn requiem mass was celebrated in St. Joseph's Church, Nazareth, Pa. Arrangements were under direction of the Maher Funeral Home.

Mrs. Sarah Murphy McHugh of 1904 Broad Place died April 13 in Merchantville, N.J. Mrs. McHugh was a practical nurse and lived in Princeton for 30 years. She was a native of Ireland.

A sister, Miss Catherine C. Murphy, and a brother, Edward, both of Princeton, survive. There are also two brothers in Ireland. Solemn requiem mass was celebrated at St. Paul's Church, with burial in the parish cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Ernest W. Hughes of Camp Meeting Avenue, Skillman, died April 8 at Princeton Hospital. Retired from the Bell Telephone Co., he was born in North Carolina and had lived in Skillman since 1926.

He is survived by his wife, Peppi, two sons, Ernest Jr. and John K., both of Trenton; a sister, Mrs. Aquilla Holmes of Elizabeth City, N.C., and a brother and his wife.

The service was held in the Second Calvary Baptist Church, the Rev. John A. Gaines of El Bethel Baptist Church officiating. Burial was in Ewing Cemetery.

Margaret J. Brown, 2 daughter of Joseph T. and Margaretta Waite Brown, 106 W. Broad Street, Hopewell, died April 9 in Princeton Hospital. Her parents moved to Hopewell from Vermont last fall.

She is also survived by a brother, Stephen; a sister, Mary Ann, both in Hopewell, and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Brown of Webster, Mass. The funeral and interment were held at the convenience of the family.

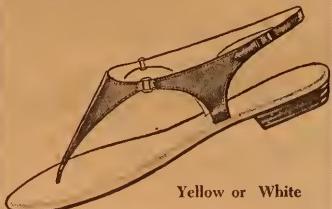

Edward J. Roekel, 55, of 21 Lower Ferry Lane, Kingston, died April 6 at his home. Born in Williamsport, Pa., he was a welder for Trap Rock Industries.

Husband of Anna Dernick Roekel, he is also survived by four sons, Edward in Africa; Alfred in Mount Holly, Michigan; Jeffrey of Forest City, Pa.; a brother, two sisters and four grandchildren.

TRACKMEN WIN FIRST
Ewing Wins Thursday. Dominating the running events, Princeton High School's track team swept past St. Anthony here Tuesday afternoon to win its season's opener, 67-43.
 St. Anthony, which failed to extend the Little Tigers but such will not be the case Thursday afternoon when PHS entertains Ewing High School in a meet at the latter. Bill Devils have been picked by nearly everyone to repeat as Mercer County champions and PHS could be the only exception.
 Only one extra effort from everyone will bring victory number two. Next Wednesday at 4, the always strong New Brunswick team will come to Princeton.

Other Sports on Pages 40-44

"I didn't like everything I saw today but overall I'm happy with the outcome," commented Ivan on the St. Anthony victory. He added that his team needs to improve its performances in the field events. "In a close match," he said, "the field events will hurt us."

PHS swept the 100 and 220. Captain Julian Sotolovsky (105) was first in the 100 followed by Warren Appel and Greg Johnson. Appel Johnson and Bill Williams were 2-3 in the 220. Sotolovsky also won his specialty, the 440 in 51.8. Teammate Bob Best was third.

The most exciting finish saw Paul Riddell upset teammate Paul Mazzarella in the high hurdles. Both were clocked in 10.1. In the 6-6 Riddell caught Mazzarella a foot off the straightaway for his first victory ever over "Mazz."

In the law hurdles, Mazzarella recovered from a fall on the low in a sparkling 20.4 to defeat Riddell by 10 yards. In other races, Jed Faro and Steve Fouldy finished 1-2 in the 800; Joe Pollio in 5.17 mile for third place—his best time—and Pete Williams placed second in the two-mile, after having just come out for the sprint to nail down a 6-4 triumph.

Bob Wolff was the losing Princeton pitcher in the game played at all-sportsmen's game. The Tigers jumped out to a two-run lead in the first, but lost it in the bottom half of the same inning. After getting behind 2-0, Princeton came up with another pair in the sixth, to draw even again. A triple that drove in the winning run in the seventh and a Homer that provided insurance in the eighth then settled matters.

CLINIC PLANNED
 By YMCA-Midget Baseball League. The YMCA-Midget Baseball League will hold a clinic for all new boys registered in the league from 10-12, at the YMCA.

All managers are asked to attend the meeting to resolve any equipment problems. The league also needs volunteers on a volunteer basis.

Any qualified people should contact John Springer at the Princeton YMCA.

No tickets are necessary for the program, which will be held in the second floor meeting room in the library. All high school students are welcome.

CAWLEYS TO SPEAK
 At Library Program. Mr. and Mrs. John Cawley, well known authors, will appear at the Princeton Public Library at 8 p.m. Monday, to present a program called "New Jersey Pathways of History," a discussion of two New Jersey colonial highways. Their talk will be illustrated with color slides from Mrs. Cawley's collection of over 4,000 slides.

Mr. and Mrs. Cawley first met on a canoe trip many years ago. Since then they have taken many outdoor trips, exploring and taking photographs all over New Jersey, as well as other parts of the country.

Much of their expert knowledge comes through these books. They have written into books, including the now classic "Exploring the Little Rivers of New Jersey," "Historic New Jersey in Pictures," and "The Great York Road," about one of the colonial highways to be discussed in their program.

PARTY PLANNED

To Honor Israel. The Princeton Hadassah will hold a birthday party for the state of Israel from 3-4 p.m., Wednesday, April 23, at the Princeton Jewish Center.

During the party, children between the ages of 5 and 12 are invited to view a film called "A Children's Farm in Israel." Refreshments will be served.

On May 3, Hadassah will sponsor a dinner dance to benefit the Hadassah Medical Center in Israel. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Sanders at 921-2895.

MUSIC In Princeton

"ACIS and GALATEA"

Last Series II Concert. Of the New York Chamber Soloists were Jean Hakes as Galatea, Charles Bressler as the shepherd Admetus, Robert White as Damon, Thomas Palmer sang the part of Polyphemus, the giant.

The instrumental ensemble included: Isidor Cohen, harpsichord; Julius Koenick, violin; Ovavhanov, violoncello; Julius Levine, double bass; Melvin Kaplan, piccolo; and John Solum, piano.

For the most part the performance was exceptionally good. The ensemble of instruments played with rhythmic precision, clarity of line and good intonation. The tempo were well poised in the faster sections and the little pastorales, of which Handel has few peers, was beautifully maintained.

Mr. Bressler's tenor was excellent. (A member of the famed New York Pro Musica, Mr. Bressler's talent is no stranger to Princeton audiences.) His tone was light but clear and ringing. He put the utmost in refinement into a style that demands elegance and grace. Mr. White sang himself as a fine singer also with a fair tenor quality if lacking the polish of his counterpart, Mr. Bressler.

Only Jean Hakes offered the major disappointment of the evening. Her tone was thin and sometimes inaudible against the Where's the Elm Light?

One of the town's most historic landmarks, Elm Road and Cleverdon-Rosedale, is still without its promised traffic light two years or more after the initial construction promises.

Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley said this week that Mercer County plans to install the light "this year."

Plans for the site are somewhere with state officials, waiting in line to be studied and approved.

It is a county-state matter, said Cawley, explaining the side lines; however, he said that he and Adminstrator Robert F. Mooney did meet to inspect the intersection last December with some County Freeholders. Decision: we need a light here . . .

Instrumental ensemble. One wonders (having no familiarity with Miss Hakes' art) whether this soprano was a last minute substitute for an ailing performer. For a soprano with other vocalists on the program (as well as with the many fine singers who have graced McCarter Theatre's stage in recent years), Miss Hakes was clearly not in the same league, vocally or artistically.

Despite the many lovely qualities of Handel's baroque operatic-style, much of the music must stand and mannered - when compared with the music of Bach. To a Handel scholar this would sound heretical, but the lyrics, moreover, do not compensate for the endless repetition, the stylized formal structure that in itself is repetitious and the overall length of the music.

UNITARIANS TO VOTE

On Abortion Resolution. The Unitarian Church of Princeton, which includes Rev. Dr. Stanley's services to study and discussion of abortion laws, will vote this Sunday a resolution advocating repeal of legal restrictions on the right of woman to make her own decision about an abortion.

The service was planned by the Rev. Ernest S. Cope, pastor, assisted by Dr. Andra Krasnow and Mrs. Jean Hart of the Abortion Law Reform Committee of New Jersey, based at the Princeton YWCA.

The Rev. Mr. Cope presented the question: "Should a woman be forced to bear a child against her will?" The congregation seated in circles of 10 with their leader, discussed the talk, their personal feelings and emotions on the current abortion laws.

At the close of the service, leaders reported that the present New Jersey law, dating to 1849, is discriminatory, forcing single, infertile, unmarried women to bear a child in favor of repeal, feeling that abortion is a moral issue involving individual conscience; a matter between the woman and her physician.

It was felt that no one group should legislate their views for others and therefore, it is a matter for state and national and state. Others stated that whatever would be acceptable if it were based on the law, which permits abortion to save the life of the mother or to protect her physical or mental health, or to protect the physical and mental health of any existing children in her womb.

The resolution before the congregation was adopted and the staff of the Unitarian Universalist Association of the Metropolitan New York District, to communicate its views to the New Jersey Assembly and Senate where the Cook Bill (Assembly 1061) has been presented, and to also communicate its views to the New Jersey Commission to study the Abortion Laws.

TO HEAR PSYCHIATRIST Discuss Legalized Abortion. Dr. Michael Tarcicco, a psychiatrist who testified last year before the Legislative Committee for the Study of Abortion will address an adult study class at Calvary Baptist has demonstrated the service of a cathedral in the 20th Century.

He says of his ministry, "I began my work in 1954 and by 1958 onwards it was of paramount importance that it was in a great industrial center such as Coventry, that had every kind of every movement, political, social and industrial and educational, the Church should seem to be concerned with the whole life of man."

TWO PROGRAMS SET

At First Baptist. This Sunday there will be a Tom Finman wedding and musical program at 7:30 p.m. in First Baptist Church. Mrs. Besie Christian is chairman.

The program will be followed by a luncheon and admission is $1 for adults and 50¢ for children under 12.

An old fashioned Gospel Hour is scheduled for 3:30 on Sunday afternoon, April 20.

Mrs. Ida Dixon is chairman.

Church at 11 this Sunday. He will consider the psychiatric implications connected with adoption abroad.

Dr. Tricario is a child and adolescent psychiatrist in private practice in Princeton and Trenton. He is affiliated with the local hospitals and is a member of the Hopewell, Hamilton and Lawrence Townships as well as instructor in child psychology at Princeton State College.

On Sunday, April 27, the class will conclude its study series with a general discussion of the legal, social, moral, medical and psychological consequences of every stage of pregnancy. Members will be urged to communicate their views to their representatives in the State Legislature.

PROVOST TO PREACH

In Trinity Church. The provost of Coventry Cathedral, the Very Rev. H. C. N. Williams, will be guest preacher at the 9 and 11 a.m. services this Sunday in Trinity Episcopal Church.

It comes in three economy sizes.

These are just some of the sizes Volkswagens come in. Regular, large and giant economy size.

Regular, you know. It's the familiar Beetle.

Large is our Squareback sedan. It holds more than the largest trunk of the largest sedan.

Giant economy size is our big bus-like box. It holds nearly twice as much as the average station wagon.

And all three VW's do everything you expect a VW to do.

They have air-cooled engines like the rear, of course. So there's no water to boil over or freeze up. And no need for antifreeze.

And they're easy on gasoline. The bug and the Squareback average about 27 miles on a gallon. The box about 23.

So you see, no matter what size we make Volkswagens, they're all economical.

Why not come in and size one up?

BULLETINS

Basketball player Chris Thomford, a senior at Princeton, will be the preacher on Sunday at 11 in Princeton University Chapel.

A free film "Parable," will be shown at 8 this Friday evening in Calvary Baptist Church, Hightstown. The film was shown in the Protestant Pavilion during the New York World's Fair. Discussion and coffee follow.

The Women of Matthew's Episcopal Church, Pennington, will sponsor a luncheon, fashion show and card party on Thursday, May 1, at the Spring Street Inn. Small ensemble groups will be created and modeled by women of the parish. The luncheon begins at noon. Mrs. Dan Day, 466-3942, is in charge of reservations.

The women's associations of the three Presbyterian Churches in Princeton will have a luncheon meeting at 12:30 this Monday in First Presbyterian Church. At 1:30 there will be a musical program presented by The Recorders and The Open-poise Sextette.

"Virtue and Vice in the Middle East" is the topic of a talk by Max Kortepeter of New York University before the Couples Group meeting at 7:30 p.m. this Friday in First Presbyterian Church.

April Exhibit

The photographic display now open for the 1967 International Congress on Religious Architecture and the Visual Arts is on display in the main hall at First Presbyterian Church during April.

The exhibit, which includes 51 photographs of outstanding church architecture around the world, was arranged by the Rev. Dr. Turner Rittenour, who was in charge of the original display.

On Saturday, April 26, the Rev. Dr. John McLean and the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph O'Rand Jr. A pot-luck supper precedes the lecture-discussion reservations with either the hosts or the guests.

The Rev. William A. De Wolfe, of the First Unitarian Church of San Antonio, will be guest preacher on April 27 at 10:30 a.m. in the Unitarian Church of Princeton. His sermon title is "A Growing Conviction."

The Rev. F. Hugh Littleton, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, will preach at 10:30 a.m. this Sunday on the topic "For Change."

For Change, baptism will be observed. In Princeton Methodist Church, the Rev. Dr. Leon Gibson will preach at 11. His topic is "An Easter Consecration."

Pool House

Oh, If That Were Only On The Market!

We can't tell you how many times we've heard that said about this lovely Country house on Princeton's western edge, and now, at last, we are able to offer it for sale. Designed by Rolf Bauhan and built by Matthews of white-washed brick with a slate roof, the house contains a through entrance hall flanked by a sunken living room with wide bay window and marble fireplace and formal dining room, also with fireplace. Intimate study has walls of glowing, waxed paneling and a tiled hearth. Powder room, pantry, kitchen and utility room. Upstairs, there's a luxurious master suite of bedroom with fireplace, dressing room and bath, plus 5 other bedrooms and 3 more baths. Play room has a lith fireplace. On over seven magnificently planted acres with beautifully terraced swimming pool and pool house. Always one of our favorites and one of a kind in the present Princeton market.

News Of The Theaters

shown at McCarter next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

At the Festival, held each year at Lincoln Center, winners are chosen in four categories—documentary, dramatic animation, dramatic film. McCarter will show the First Prize and Second Prize films in each group from the past two Festivals. The 1969 Festival ended last weekend.

Winning entries come from UCLA, USC, NYU, Boston University, Wisconsin and Iowa. Tickets, at $1.50, will be available at the door on Tuesday evening.

MORE "MOBY DICK"
Play's Last Rehearsal. The gleeful sounds of critical and popular acclaim have combined to convince Theatre Intime that "Moby Dick — Rehearsed" should run another week.

Orson Welles' play-within-a-play will be given this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 17, 18 and 19, in Murray Theatre on campus. The run was to have ended last week end.

In "Moby Dick," Welles uses the core of the Herman Melville novel. He imagined an arc of actors assembled in the early 1900's to rehearse "King Lear" and drawn instead into an exploration of the Melville novel.

Edward Townley is the director. William Hookins, a Princeton junior, portrays Captain Ahab.

Tickets may be reserved by calling the Murray Theatre box-office, 432-9161, between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m., and 7:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m.

PINTER, IONESCO
"Bald Soprano," "Lover." Harold Pinter and Eugene Ionesco will share billing in the next Community Players production.

The double bill will be presented May 2 and 3 and again May 9 and 10 at 8:30 p.m. in the theater of the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road.

In "The Lover," a marriage is saved from oblivion because the couple assumes dual roles — that of lover and spouse. In the afternoons they meet secretly as lovers; in the evenings they charge one another with being married.

Nathaniel Hartshorne will be the lover-husband, and Irene Rosenbaum will portray the wife-mistress. Tom Queenan will be the milkman.

"Bald Soprano," is a parody of empty heads and empty talkers. Robert Peck and Syd Mitterman, Mr. and Mrs. Marv and Marin and James Marvill and Joan Goldstein will be Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Suzanne Niederlitz will play the bairnish maid and Andy Blood will be the fire chief in search of a fire which doesn't exist.

Allan R. Pierce, who has had wide directorial experience in many communities, is the director.

CLOSE SHAVE HARMONY
For "Music Man." The entire sweep of Central New Jersey was explored, probed and surveyed by Milton Lyon — his directing "The Music Man" for P. J. & B. — in the hope of finding a barbershop quartet.

The four members of the quartet he found, live so far apart that it would be close. Bob Baechtold lives in Cranford, Robert Brunquelle in Piscataway, Don Kalbach in Bound Brook and Andy Reilly in Somerset.

All four, plus Mr. Lyon and a cast of 169, are turning out

DECORATORS FORM SET
"Au Fait Decor, Inc." An

ton Junction. They hope to prove that Miss Wilk brings to Au Fait is her intensive knowledge of lighting. "The most natural lighting," she says, "is a combination of fluorescent and incandescent light contrast with the variety of merchandise in their six vignette showrooms.

Au Fait Decor is located on the Princeton-Hightstown road and the partners are Mrs. Barbara C. Wilk, Miss Marie Isop, They're a cordial and lively trio, with plenty of experience in the decorating field.

Mrs. Morton, who has a son returning in May, is a service worker in Air Force. Wilk is a young-looking grandmother. She was for 18 years a design consultant with J. B. Van Sciver and later was the first woman in the state to manage a retail furniture store. She has spent many weeks in carpet mills, studying procedures in the manufacture of the fibers we are using today.

She has designed interiors for business houses, churches and many, many homes. You'll not be surprised, after you've seen her, to learn that she was a teaching interior design in adult schools and served as a design career counselor for high school students.

Marie Isop and Barbara Wilk were classmates (Class of 1964) in interior design at Drexel Institute in Philadelphia. They won travel fellowships and studied at U.S. and Mexico, studying interiors and architecture. Later they went to Europe together to study.

Miss Isop, a blonde Esthonian, was a student working behind the scenes at the Commercial Museum in Philadelphia when it put on its outstanding Italian show, furnishings and fashion from Italy. She became a graphic designer at Vertol and later was the first woman designer for the Acme studio. Setting up an interior design at John Wanamaker's store in Philadelphia, she found her classmate there and they have been working as designers together ever since.

Miss Wilk, tall and very graceful, has made several trips to Europe, has been in the design department at Lord & Taylor, New York, and at Wanamaker's was trained by the famous Olga Gordon, two-term president of the National Home Fashion League.

performance as Rhett Butler and it seems that they will. Vivien Leigh was ever tested for the role of Scarlett. Olivia de Havilland, Melvyn Douglas provides a classic example of how an actress can make a character sweet but never mawkish. Ann Hattie McDaniel and Butchery McQueen created real people. Not Negro stereotypes. Only Leslie Howard's performance seemed stilted today.

Running time 3 hours, 40 minutes.

2001: A Space Odyssey. The far reaches of outer space are explored in Stanley Kubrick's visually splendid, highly imaginative science-fiction film. It moves from the bare beginning of man's past primitive man and then moves through space and time to the year 2001. Here scientists are gathered on the moon to examine a remarkable man-made probe sent out a space probe to follow strange signals which it seems to be beaming to Jupiter.

The odyssey craft is manned by two astronauts (Keir Dullea and Gary Lockwood) and a super-human computer which seeks to take control of the space ship and destroy the probe that it has itself destroyed, rendering the ship incapable. The survivor, on his deathbed somewhere on the planet Jupiter, is finally confronted with the ageless monolith, whose origin and meaning remain an enigma.

There are stunning special effects and extraordinary special effects and shiny scenes. The long epic space adventure is an intricate, fantastic and overwhelming experience.

relationships. Some have failed to realize the importance of achieving but can't quite put their finger on what can be done to create the feeling. This is where we come in...

Au Fait Decor is a short six-minute drive from Princeton and you're invited to drop in any time to talk over your decorating problems over a cup of coffee.

While you're there, you'll see the many accessories the partners are beginning to play — available for Mother's Day, weddings, showers, hostess gifts. We noticed beautiful all-throw pillows from Finland, tapestries, centerpieces, paintings, butterfly pictures (from Guatemala, of all places) silver mirrors, ashtrays, and by the time you get there, the antique cut glass and china will be in the cases.

LIKE TO SEW?

Fight The Home-made Look! Fabrics Find at 195 Nassau, where Mary Anne and Jim have a new service for making hats, buckles and buttons. The buttons alone come in 20 different styles and sizes. Some are combinations of your fabrics and a metal edge, others are shaped like triangles or diamonds. Some are saddle stitched.

Among the belts, any width you want, even contour. Just bring in enough fabric, your leather, maybe some leather, 7 inches. The buckles are equally varied. If you take advantage of this service, you'll have a professional look to your latest creation. Fabrics Find as always, can make exquisite braided buttons and frogs, with your fabric color absolutely exactly matched.)

We have you think you will want to see the Swiss designs to see. Mrs. Edith van Citters has discovered somewhere. They look like silk—but are pure cotton and washable. And non-woven fabrics are also starting to come in. And the colors! As Mrs. van C. says herself, "The artist must have gotten his inspiration from Monet." Soft pink and grays; turquoise-and blues . . .

She also has the pouffy piques from Switzerland. The fabric makes tremendous dresses or cocktail dress. It would be beautiful to be the mother of the bride—even on the bride herself. White background with the pouff in soft grays or yellows. There are also pure white and even black.

The French cottons at Fabric Find are extremely interesting with open work in another color—still beautifully woven.

There are also some divine English cotton prints which look like the new Scandinavian cottons. They are rather heavy in weight, and the designs are from countryside.

Wandering around, you'll see an exquisite Austrian cotton embroidered with lace for a very feminine daytime shift, Mrs. van Citters muses, or for a young bride. Next to come are some of the finest, gossamer cotton voiles you've ever held up to the light. The designs are again from the countryside, there's even one with moonlight on it. The colors are such combinations as a soft lavender with yellows, greens and browns.

You'll be enchanted by the drafting beauty of the chiffon voile prints. In one, green, gently touched with yellow and blue.

Fabric Find has a wide variety of pastel shades and capeskins, to browse through, we remind you. The shop is closed Mondays: open every other weekend, beginning at 10 a.m.

what really bugs me about this. Why we make such a big deal about the human body. We all have them.

Mrs. John Ross, Belle Mead, housewife: I can't give you a wholly unbiased answer because I am not familiar with Playboy, but I don't think it belongs in the Public Library. It doesn't belong in public places. I call any literary qualities, maybe some think it is aesthetically attractive, but these aesthetic qualities would not be in any standard library.

J. F. Douglas, 164 Belmont Drive, chemist: Yes, it is part of the current American literature, regardless of what you consider its merits to be. As such, I think it belongs in the library.

Douglas Reddick, Somersett, warehouseman for McGraw-Hill. I suppose so; it's a deep question. I would say since the

Here - without the hysteria - is Red China's case against the West

In spite of all her clumsy propaganda, Communist China does have a case worth hearing. Our tradition of fair debate, our sanity, and perhaps our ultimate survival require that we hear it. C.R. Hensman—a non-Communist Asian, formerly a BBC producer—has done a vital service for the West by presenting this case in calm, civil language. Drawing upon documentary material not readily available in the U.S., he sheds revealing light on China's mind, her motives, and her real intentions toward her Asian neighbors and toward the West.

GEMS OF THE MONTHS

One of our most enduring and popular beliefs is in the value of wearing a special gem for the month of birth. That practice dates back to the 16th century and had as its source Biblical references. The months are grouped birthstones according to the American Gem Society and the Retail Jewelers of America is as follows: January — Garnet; February — Amethyst; March — Aquamarine or Bloodstone; April — Diamond; May — Emerald; June — Pearl, Moonstone or Alexandrite; July — Ruby; August — Peridot or Sardonyx; September — Sapphire; October — Opal or Tourmaline; November — Topaz or Citrine Quartz; December — Turquoise or Zircon.

Most interesting are the various attributes given to the birthstones. The garnet was believed to make the wearer immune against injury. Amethyst was used to cool the fires of passionate love, as well as a protection against intoxication. The March gem, Aquamarine, was thought to give courage and sharpen the mind. Diamond, of course, has many legends connected with it as the "King of Gems." The most widespread belief credits it as a symbol of purity and light.

Both men and women may equally well wear birthstone. Men often prefer them either set in rings or cuff links. Women, of course, have much more latitude. One of the most popular designs is on a charm or in a ring. Where there are two stones given for the month, generally the woman gets to wear by moon, and the more brilliant stone is the feminine choice. If you would like to see your own special gem, we will be happy to show you a selection.

Princeton Launches Career Development Awards For Youth With Non-academic Abilities

The high school boy who can keep his car motor purring like a contented tiger, the girl who buys a length of fabric and turns out a dress like nobody else, the youth who scrabbles old radios and tries to sell for spare parts. They're borned with English, French, history—and their parents keep talking about college.

At the moment, Mr. Petrucci, head guidance counselor at Princeton High School, can identify a pool of 60 to 80 seniors who are potential candidates for the new "Career Development Awards" program, this young people in mind.

The germ of the idea came more than a year ago from William W. Turnbull, executive vice president at Educational Testing Service. It's been improved by the number of ways that youngsters excel: some in academic skills, others equally outstanding in the kinds of tasks they do best. Some students get singled out and honored just as much as the academically inclined."

Last year, the Princeton community gave approximately $20,000 in scholarships to Princeton High School students, according to Mr. Petrucci. "But a lot of that was matched by those not going on to college. We could have used another $20-$30,000 for that group."

The Career Development Awards Program (CDA) is planning what Henry Chauncy has called "a practical attack on one of the nation's urgent and increasingly serious problems:

"(1) how to provide an adequate corps of competent, well-trained technicians and workers to fill the needs of a technological society, and

"(2) how to provide satisfying and valuable careers for young people who are not satisfactorily accommodated by our society at the present time."

After study and research in various parts of the community, ETS brought together 40 of Princeton's community leaders a few weeks ago to present the prospects of the CDA program.

"As we all know from our daily lives," Dr. Chauncy stated, "excellence is expected in traditional ways and superior technical skills are needed in an increasing number of occupations. This program will help increase opportunities for highly skilled people in a variety of technical, occupational and artistic fields."

"Of at least equal importance is the fact that it will help young people of recognized ability find individual careers of their own choice."

Both men and women may equally well wear birthstone. Men often prefer them either set in rings or cuff links. Women, of course, have much more latitude. One of the most popular designs is on a charm or in a ring. Where there are two stones given for the month, generally the woman gets to wear by moon, and the more brilliant stone is the feminine choice. If you would like to see your own special gem, we will be happy to show you a selection.

"... A practical attack on two urgent problems," — Henry Chauncy.

BUSINESS In Princeton

CDA proposes to honor excellence and to provide financial assistance to students contemplating a one-year or two year vocational-technical course instead of four-year college degree courses.

The first awards will be made in June by a selection committee now being formed. Prizes will range from $100 to $1,000 per year of scholarship. Sponsors are asked to pledge $500 a year for two years. The first sponsors to sign in the program are The First National Bank of Princeton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Taplin of Armour Road, McGraw-Hill Inc. of Hightstown, and Union Camp Corp.

"It's a great program," Max Blumenthal of American Diamond Company said this week. "Its about time we gave the same attention to vocational matters as we have in the past to National Merit and other scholarships."

"We need more computer programmers, for instance. Any here? We have to train our own scientific assistants for our laboratories. . . . There's a whole variety of careers available for the technically trained."

Mr. Blumenthal, a member of the CDA advisory committee from the beginning, is on the now-forming selections committee that will select applicants. "I am afraid that we will have more candidates than money this year," he says ruefully. "Industry ardent were ought to be supporting the program while it's worth their while."

"They're needed in banking right now . . ." — Ralph H. Mather

"The program benefits the student and industry," Ralph W. Mather, First National agreed. "The student will be able to achieve a better position and industry will have a better trained employee. There's a need for this type of trained person in banking right now, as well as in research. I think it's a great program."

"From my personal experience," Stephen R. Hirsch, Princeton Jaycees' president, adds, "a goodly number of students need sufficient information about the career opportunities that are open to them. . . . It is better to be an excellent technician than to be an engineer." The Jaycees are quite interested in this program. We think it has potential."

Mrs. Alice Irby, project director for CDA since the early months, says of the role the Princeton CDA effort might have: "We are hopeful that we can learn enough from this trial in Princeton to carry some of the ideas beyond Princeton to other communities — statewide, even nationally."

The Princeton pilot program, she notes, is open to any student in the Princeton public schools, private schools, to Princeton students attending Notre Dame High School in Trenton. "We have invited a number of service organizations, such as the Y. Girl Scouts, the hospital, any group that has an on going program for youth, to submit names of candidates to the screening committee. We want it to be a community effort in all ways."

Mr. Tschirhart adds, "We are hopeful that the awards may be as many as 10 awards given locally this June," but that number is more certain for next year.

"I look on this as potentially the equivalent of the National Merit program. It ranges widely over mechanical skills, art, photography, electronics."

The CDA administrative costs will be paid by ETS, freeing the sponsors' gifts from the usual overhead charges.

Mr. Petrillo, at the high school, cannot say enough about the merits of the CDA program which will give his non-academically inclined young stars, "I am very, very excited about it!"

Members of the CDA board, drawn from the business and industry; education, and service organizations, include Dr. Isaac L. Martin, president of the Mercer County Vocational Board;

Max Blumenfeld, American Cyanamid; John Connolly, presidential assistant at the Princeton Graduate College; Mrs. Eva J. Critz, Princeton Chamber of Commerce; Arthur Curtiss, RCA vice-president; E. The complex, to be called Twin Rivers, will be the first project to be constructed in the state since enactment of the Municipal Planned Unit
Development Act of 1967.

The Twin Rivers project, located on State Highway 33 near the New Jersey Turnpike, will consist of 52 acres of shopping facilities, a 238-acre light-industry complex and about 3,000 residential units.

"Purchasers will come from not one, but three major market areas," explained builder Herbert J. Kendall, "metropolitan New York, the large job centers of Northern New Jersey and the vast Camden-Philadelphia area."

"Now, we are facing a land shortage problem which better use of land to house more families is one of the most meaningful needs of the nation as a whole," Mr. Kendall added.

SALES HIT NEW HIGH
At Applied Logic Corp., Ap-

"ROYAL FANCY"

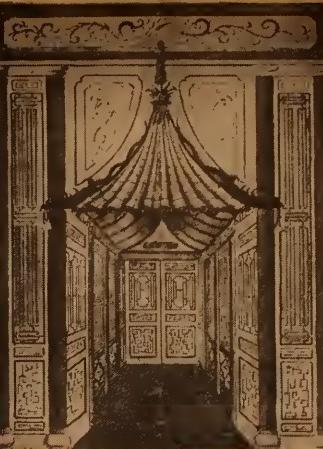

At Princeton Art Museum, "Royal Fancy," at the Brighton Pavilion, is the subject of a current and colorful exhibition of drawing, watercolors and other decorative descriptions of the fantastic home of George IV of England. This collection is loan to the Princeton University Art Museum, by courtesy of the Cooper Hewitt Museum, Smithsonian Institution of New York, was used in the restoration of the Pavilion to its former splendor.

As originally intended, it now appears upon its encircled lawns by the sea like a fabulous Indian palace bright by Oriental magic. Within it is a wonderland of exotic architectural features and decorations.

To recreate for us the true feeling of the Pavilion extravaganza, a particular set of designs for the interiors has been chosen. Executed by the British firm of Grace and Son, descended over the years and most importantly from 1815 to 1822, the designs are noteworthy for their historical nature in a broad sense, but more purposeful for their vivid description of the personal character and tastes of an imperious and frustrating client.

It is essential to one's enjoyment of the exhibit to recall the checkered career of the Prince and to note that his infatuations of many kinds are all reflected in the various phases of his favorite project, the Brighton Pavilion. His tempestuous and extravagant life is matched, stage by stage, by the continual remodeling and refashioning of his palace, and in this resides the source of the imaginative and grandiloquent expressions of the brilliant architects who "aimed to please."

Before and After? We are lucky to see the very beginning of the whole idea in a pencil sketch of the original Italo-Florentine style villa. The only simple extract from the show and drawn roughly on a scrap of paper, it still indicates the possibility of future flights into "royal fancy" which came aplenty. From a book compiled by

CORRIDOR This watercolor was done between 1815 and 1818 by Frederick Crace as a design for the Brighton Pavilion, in England. It is part of the exhibit, "Royal Fancy: The Brighton Pavilion" now on view at the Princeton Art Museum, architect, Humphry Repton, there are magnificently pictures with overlaps to show the "before" and full effects of the "after" made even gayer with painted glass, prancing horses and elegant people. In brilliant watercolors one travels through rooms after room with a crescendo of delight to the eye as he absorbs the sumptuousness of Gothic, Chinese and Hindu, (to name a few), mythological and Egyptian-classical figures, floral motifs and decorations from all over the Old World, everything crammed into a single abode. There are those who insist, upon seeing the Pavilion for themselves, that the author does not mean to overwhelm the visitor with the fusion of ornament so overwhelming as harmonious proportions and the curves of its domes and arches are of exquisite grace and subtlety.

Anonimous Designers. The drawings in color, which so eloquently convey a pictorial story of the Pavilion are done by two artists, both anonymous.

This is a conglomeration which is fun to study and just might be terrible to live with. A Music Room filled with

GREAT AIMS FOR PENN
And Childs Cup on Saturday
A Penn crew which ranks with Harvard as one of the two top shells in the nation will defend the Childs Cup Saturday on Lake Carnegie against Princeton and Columbia. The varsity event, climaxing a program of four races among the three colleges, will begin at 4 o'clock.

The second freshmen will leave the slate boats at 3:15 as last fall. Navy's new crew with the freshmen rowing as coach, Jack Ullrich, posted a hour later and the jaysves at big "T" in the boathouse at 3:45. All races will cover the midshipmen distance of 2,000 Olympic yards. The open met the in-line hull regatta on, to which they had lost for the last seven years. PRINCETON BY PLENTY OF OPEN WATER: Princeton's big, veteran crew won its second race of the season Saturday as it led Northeastern across the finish line at Lake Carnegie by 2½ lengths. Navy, trailing the Tigers for the eighth year in a row, didn't make it into the picture.

spring for the first time in history won the national intercollegiate regatta at Syracuse. It was defeated by Harvard in the sprint championships earlier in the season, and the Crimson will try to make up the reverse to represent the U.S. at the Mexico City games, but the Quakers otherwise dominated the rowing picture. They have won the Childs Cup for the last three years in a series of the past ten.

Last year on the Harlem River, the Red and Blue finished two lengths ahead of Princeton with a third. Since the first Childs Cup race 90 years ago, Penn has recorded 37 victories, Princeton 18 and Columbia 12.

Navy beaten again. As early as last fall, Navy's new crew with the freshmen rowing as coach, Jack Ullrich, posted a hour later and the jaysves at big "T" in the boathouse at 3:45. All races will cover the midshipmen distance of 2,000 Olympic yards. The open met the in-line hull regatta on, to which they had lost for the last seven years. Whether he has now posted an equally large "B" is doubtful, but Penn has shown steady improvement in rowing during the past decade, and last Saturday since the Tiger string began in 1961.

There was, among other things, plenty of room for Northeastern, taking part in the rivalry for the first time, to come in second. Massachusetts' boat was 2½ lengths in back of Princeton.

BIG ONE FOR TIGERS

Navy beat Penn in Lacrosse. It's been ten years since Princeton last defeated Navy, and now the Tigers did so Saturday in a manner that may have a bearing on the outcome of the Ivy race. They will start by the Penns on Sunday at 2 when they play host to Brown on Finney Field.

The upset triumph at the middies' expense was no fluke. Coach Peter Thomsen's open-middles were generally in charge, leading 3-2 at the end of the first half and holding the favored visitors to a 5-5 tie at the half.

A big third-period surge made the eventual difference, the victors scoring four times to the two of Navy and then matching the middies' score goal in the tightly-played final quarter. In a scoring outburst that must have set some kind of record for efficiency, Princeton found the mark on four of the five shots it took during the third period.

Football and hockey fans found the scoring summary loaded with familiar names. Princeton's star safetyman whose punt returns had the Palmer Stadium fans on their feet last fall, scored twice, as did tailback Scott MacLean.

Pete Lips, who often plays in the same defensive backfield with Bordelon, also had a pair, while the fourth player to score twice was tiger forward Jon Taylor. Mike Bigby, a defensive end, accounted for a goal, and sophomore Jim Umiker was the latter's goal 50 seconds after the third period began that launched Princeton on its winning rally.

Thomsen's switch of goalies is what has had the telling effect on the outcome. He called on his reserve net-minder, Trevor Brown, who contributed 15 saves, a number of them superb, and four of them while the Tigers were a man short on penalties.

In the closing minutes, the Tigers gave a fine performance in protecting their slim margin. Navy crept to within one goal but Taylor lashed in a shot after a long pass to make it 6 to 5. Accurate passing was responsible for the 2, over Brown, holding a shut-out over the Bruins until the ton of the ninth.

Army at West Point was on the school's schedule this week. This weekend is the first of six league games which will see Princeton open a campaign to replace Cornell as the Ivy champion. Princeton has won three victories over Navy and should shake up the rest of the circuit. Most of whose members don't even schedule the "Big Four" of lacrosse, let alone trim one of them occasionally.

TIGERS ARE HITTING

And Winning Ball Games. Seven games into the 1969 season, Princeton's baseball team had lost only once. What had happened?

Princeton has been more than the early success was the hitting. Hunter has hit better unbeaten NYU, 5 to 4; tied at second; Temple team which had not lost, 4-3; and then beat their first league contest, 6 to 2, over Brown, holding a shut-out over the Bruins until the ton of the ninth.

The hits are virtually all of the solid variety — line drives that sail well over the infielders' heads and occasionally beyond the outfielders. Catcher Arnie Holthberg pounded out a triple in the home run against Temple, and a triple in the Brown game.

Pitcher Bob Hunter got a line-drive single and a solid triple in two appearances at the plate against Brown, and he came through for the third time he so unnerved the visitors' bather that the latter hit him on the pitching arm, effectively removing Hunter from further rearing. Hunter did not last, but it's a sight that the baseball faithful around here haven't seen in a long, long time.

In addition to Holthberg, the 215-pound football linebacker who is doing a fine job in the regular class. He has been selected year after year as one of the best pestering opposing hurdlers regularly by Bob Schiffner. The strapping sophomore first baseman has been to the top in his class with one in each of the first two appearances against Brown.

His first was recorded when he sliced a two-out double down the left field foul line to score Paul Colburn from second. Not this time, however, because it was good for a hit that brought in Colburn again. The latter, playing centerfield, leads off for the Tigers and is on base with great consistency.

While his mates were rounding the bases with satisfactory frequency, Hunter was hurling a two-hitter, and the pitcher had a touch of his upper-cut arm bunched him in the bottom of the sixth and sophomore Jack Hittson came on to retire the visitors easily in the seventh and eighth.

Junior Jim Wolff worked the ninth, lacked his usual control and had two runs scored against him when third baseman Ray Huard misplayed a ground ball with the bases loaded. The Tigers rallied, however, and by mid-April had won half as many games in and out of the league as they did all last year.

The tie with Temple might have turned out better. For Princeton had its usually steady play, but was unable to put in the game at Philadelphia.

The Orange and Black lead hosts of 10 midway through the game, 6-4 in the seventh, 7-6 in the last of the tenth. Mike Fesmuth, one senior who is playing regularly, ran into trouble again after being treated to a 4.0 lead, and Hittson had his problems, nevertheless, although not all of the runs scored against them were earned.

Lafayette was due here Wednesday, with a tie-up race. Navy and Princeton on the Saturday schedule. Villanova away next Wednesday and St. John's, the NCAA District II champion, on Thursday follow. The latter game will be played here.

TRACK TEAM WINS

Tops Pean Impressively. Winning by 28 points when it was up to 24, the Varsity team, or 10, Princeton's track team opened its 1969 season Saturday with a 94-60 triumph over Pennsylvania.

Most impressive performances was a 9-02.7 two-mile by Eamon Downey, one of four meet records set during the afternoon. The other three went to the Quakers, who were partaking in their fourth meet of the spring but could not stay with the Tigers.

Hermon Stevenson gave the home team its only double of the afternoon when he placed first in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. His times were 10.1 and 22.1.

Coach Pete Morgan's team will be involved in relay meets for the next two Saturdays, following Wednesday's encounter with Cornell at Princeton. They'll be on Randall's Island Saturday for the Queens' Island Relays and at Franklin Field April 25 and 26 for the Penn Relays.

Other Sports. Princeton's tennis team began its season last week with a 7-2 defeat of Cornell in its first Eastern Association match. The netmen had Columbia on the schedule for a midweek match and will go to Georgetown Saturday.

The golf team blanked Brown on the Springfield links Saturday to raise its season's record to 24-0. The Varsity team, which was the first to play this week, was in 150 lb. crew, and the Tiger spring sports teams are accordingly off to their best cumulative start in years.

HOME OPENER FRIDAY

For PDL Lacrosse Team, Princeton Day School and Princeton High School will meet for the first time Friday night at Princeton High School. The Blue and White squad, relatively strong at attack and midfield, was scheduled to play its opening game Wednesday afternoon away against the George School. The Panthers face a rugged 18-game schedule, in an attempt to better last year's 3-4 mark.

After Thompson taking over, head coach Tom Hillman reported his defense as needing the most work. Jerry King, co-captain Bob O'Connor and Carl Rosenberger were moved up from midfield, give PDS a veteran line on attack. At midfield co-captains Rick Judge, Dave McCleod, and Carl Vornicka, also have plenty of experience. All six are seniors.

Keith Bash, Chris Gobbe, John Kalpin, Tom Worthington and Bill Brinkley are out for the sport for the first time. It will take turns at defense. Depth, a problem for virtually every PDS team, at the varsity level, will be a concern of Thompson's also.

PDS TO MEET WANDAW
In Baseball Friday. The Princeton Day School Varsity team will meet Wandaw School Friday in its second scheduled game of the season, seeking to dispel the adage "Wandaw is the last team in Gaith." The season's opener was set for Wednesday afternoon against George School away.

For the Panthers, weak in the fielding department, the aim will be to outscore the opponents, relying on some strong hitting from players like Carl Jacobell.

Captain Craig Page has a good arm, but needs to confine his pitches more to the strike zone. PDS found itself in constant trouble with opposing teams last year, because of the large number of walks issued. Behind Page will be David Claghorn, a sophomore, the and Carl Rosenberg, a fresh-stealing second. Peters also man. Jacobell may also be singled and stole a base to put runners in scoring position.

Two freshmen, Peter McCandless and Kirk Moore, will see action in the outfield and at shortstop respectively while the Panthers will fill the third base slot. Tom Spain will be behind the plate for another year.

Coach Johnson, in his second year at the helm, will be working with a young team—only Page and Spain are seniors, and facing an expanded schedule of 15 contests. The Panthers posted a 1-8 record last spring.

HUN NINE WINS
An Extra Innning. Joe Castro's ninth-inning single at the bottom of the eighth inning powered Hun to an exciting 7-6 victory here Saturday afternoon over Bryn Mawr.

The Pennsylvania League victory was Hun's first of the season, after the Red and Black dropped a 6-2 decision to Peddie in its non-league opener last week.

Hun will travel to German town Friends for a Friday contest, and they play Perkiomen on its home diamond Wednes day, April 3. This Wednesday afternoon was scheduled to play its third game at Friends Central.

Some clutch hitting and heads up base running by Rich Ziegler and Steve Peters set up Hun's winning rally over Bryan Athyn. After the Red and Black had taken a 6-3 lead in the top of the eighth, last game's first extra inning—Ziegler opened Hun's half of the ninth with a home run.

Hun Fielding Rusty. Last week at Peddie, Hun lost 6-2 in a game marred by errors, which the Red and Black attributed to lack of practice—it had only one day of practice its diamond before its contest with Peddie—has committed 12 miscues in its first two games.

Ziegler was tagged with the loss. He pitched five innings, gave up five hits and all six runs. He struck out nine. Roby worked the last three.

Peters had two of Hun's five hits. Mike Maguire, Herman

Szecker and Chalifoux each stroked singles.

BUSY WEEK AHEAD

For PHS Nine, at the start of the season, PHS baseball coach Harry Zoll set this goal—to win enough games in the first half of the year to qualify for the annual NJSHAA post-season playoffs. Not since 1960 have the Little Tigers been in the playoffs.

If Zoll is to achieve his goal, much will hang on the outcome of the three games coming up. Thursday, the Little Tigers will play their opening opponent, Eastern, which may be many to be the team to beat in Mercer County this season. Starting time will be 3:45.

Then on Monday the team will entertain Lawrenceville, and the next day travel to Atlantic City to play PHS twice last year—17-4 and 3-0. Starting time for both of these games is also 3:45.

In a short season there is no allowance for any lossing streak. If one occurs, to the playoffs. Before the coming week is over, Zoll should know if this season—his 13th—will fulfill its omen of bad luck or not.

In its opening game of the season Monday afternoon at Carteret, PHS suffered a 5-1 shutout with pitcher Cliff Haring contributing largely to his own problems by committing four errors. The visitors broke the game open in their half of the fourth by scoring four times with the aid of only one foul.

TIGERS VS. PANTHERS

Friday at Lacrosse. An intra-town lacrosse match will pit the Little Tigers of Princeton High School against the Panthers of Princeton High School Friday at 3:45 on the PDS field.

The contest will be the third for coach Harry Tamm's Little Tigers who were scheduled to play their second game of the season Wednesday at Lawrenceville School. The team lost its opener to Fairleigh Dickinson but has been practicing daily throughout the spring vacation to get in much-needed playing time.

NETMEN AT PEDDIE

For Monday Match. The team will travel to Peddie Monday afternoon for its third Princeton High School team match of the season.

After winning its opener at Pennsby, 32, the team was scheduled to resume Wednesday as part of its spring vacation. Bill Burns has returned as coach, following a year of study at Rutgers University.

N. J. Stickmen Win, 16-6.
The New Jersey Lacrosse Club, headquartered in Princeton, rebounded strongly from its opening defeat of the season last week by defeating the "Bowies," the Washington Lacrosse Club here Sunday at the Hun School field, 16-6.

Scoring leader for the home team was Hun's own Dave Lecle with four goals and one assist. Team captain John Hirsch had three goals scored with a pair of goals each — Phil Allen, Tom Menken and George Greenstein.

Contributing single tallies were Skip Flanagan, Don Friedman and Mitchell Baumaster. The win left the club with a 1-1 record. Washington is 0-2.

Sunday at 2 at the Hun field, Princeton, will be the meeting of the Long Island Lacrosse Club. Long Island has been listed as the best lacrosse team on any level in the country.

Admission is free — the big give-away since the Indians won Manhattan Island for Peter Stuyvesant for $24.

RACING SEASON BEGUN

By Carnegie Sailing Club. Plenty of sun and shifting winds provided an ideal setting for the first weekend of racing this spring for the Carnegie Sailing Club. In all, 17 boats participated in four sets of races.

John Reeder, with his son Jack, as crew, nipped Ed McEntee by nine-tenths of a point to win top honors in the Penn division. Last year's club commodore, was third.

In the 14-foot sloops, Kim Foster, with Walt Gibson as crew, finished first; Jim Hartman, Fred Weigington in GP 14, was third; in the Sunfish class, Dan Mazzaralla, second, and Mel Winters, third.

A Tiger First: Petrie, Hummer Co-Captains

For the first time in modern Princeton athletic history, co-captains have been elected by a Tiger team. Jeff Petrie and John Hummer will lead the basketball quintet next winter, subject to approval by the Council of Athletic Affairs.

Roommates, the two have been leaders on the Tiger five for the past two years and were major factors this past season in making Princeton the first Ivy quintet to achieve an 11-and-0 record in league play. The 6-7 Hummer and 6-5 Petrie will be the co-captains as an outside shot from either a forward or a guard's position.

As a sophomore, Petrie scored 335 points while in his junior year he hit for 341, raising a 12.9 average to a fine 20.8. With 87 to his credit, somewhere in the Tigers' sixth consecutive game this winter, he will become the eighth player in Princeton history to score 1,000 points.

Slowed by a foot injury as a sophomore when he played in only 16 of 26 games, Hummer scored 183 in his first year and added 410 this past season. With 593 so far, he may also top the 1,000-mark as a Princetonian. His floor shooting is 57% over two years is unusually high for a player who spends his time where the in-fighting is toughest.

Chris Thomsford, whom Petrie and Hummer succeed, won the F. Franklin Bunn Trophy for sportsmanship and leadership in the sport. Thomsford is the seventh player to pass the 1,000-point level with a three-year total of 1,222.

It does things other small cars shouldn't do.

Cornering at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes. Is that all SAAB has? Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features. As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE.

SAAB

Small American place. Free shipment from Sweden to P.O.E. East Coast. You can drive it like a big car.
